The Oxford Public Library Friends are dedicated volunteers and advocates for libraries who raise much needed funds, sponsor programs, special events, and host popular used book sales. They are a non-profit organization formed to promote the interests and welfare of the Oxford Public Library.

Get Involved!

You should join because you care about the Oxford Public Library and would like to support the Library through the Friends' efforts. Joining the OPL Friends Group is a rewarding way to give back to your library and to your community. Membership dues provide entry to pre-sales at used book sales, voting privileges for election of officers and changes to the bylaws, and some group expenditures. Some members give hours of time by volunteering behind the scenes, or by assisting with the Friends of the Library sponsored events. Others help at used book sales or to write a letter to legislators supporting the Library. Others provide financial support through payment of dues. All forms of support are appreciated!

Dues Schedule:

Individual $10.00

Family $20.00

Business / Vendor $50.00

How to Join:

You can join the Friends of the library by visiting the OPL website. Just print and complete the application form and affix the annual membership dues.
